PATENT OFFICE NOTICES

Practice Re Markush-Type Claims

This notice deals with Markush-type claims which include a plurality of alternatively usable substances or members. In most cases this recitation by enumeration is used because there is no appropriate or true generic language.

Where an application claims two or more independent and distinct inventions, the Commissioner, under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121, may require the application to be restricted to one of the inventions.

A Markush-type claim is directed to "independent and distinct inventions," if two or more of its members are so unrelated and diverse that a prior art reference anticipating the claim with respect to one of the members would not render the claim obvious under 35 U.S.C. 103 with respect to the other member(s).

If the claim is of that nature, the examiner is authorized to reject it as an improper Markush claim and for misjoinder under 35 U.S.C. 121 and to require the applicant to restrict the application to a single invention. In making such a requirement, the examiner will (1) clearly delineate the members or groups of members believed to constitute improperly joined inventions, and (2) state reasons fully explaining why they are independent and distinct. Applicant's response to such a requirement should be an election of a single adequately disclosed and supported invention, with or without restriction of the claim(s) to that invention. Of course, the response must not introduce new matter into the application. See 35 U.S.C. 132 and In re Welstead, 59 CCPA 1105, 463 F. 2d 1110, 174 USPQ 449 (1972). A refusal to elect a single invention will be treated as a non-responsive reply.

If the members of the Markush group are sufficiently few in number or so closely related that a search and examination of the entire claim can be made without serious burden, the examiner is encouraged to examine it on the merits, even though it is directed to independent and distinct inventions. In such a case, the examiner will not follow the procedure outlined in the preceding paragraph and will not require restriction.

Where the examiner has rejected the claim and required restriction and the applicant has responded without restricting the claim(s) to a single invention, the examiner shall, if the position is adhered to, again reject the claim and any other Markush claims not restricted to the elected invention. No further examination of these claims is required unless and until such rejection has been overcome. However, if the search of the single elected invention develops prior art which would render both the elected invention and the improper Markush claim(s) unpatentable, such prior art may be applied in rejections of both without a complete search of the subject matter of the improper Markush claim(s). Otherwise, only true generic claims and those restricted to the elected invention will be examined in the usual manner.

Review of the rejection will be by appeal to the Board of Appeals under 35 U.S.C. 134.

Commissioner of Patents.

Trademark Registration Treaty

Trademark Act of 1946

The text of the Trademark Registration Treaty (TRT), signed on June 12, 1973, was reproduced in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of July 24, 1973 and three post-conference documents were published in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of March 12, 1974. The questions of United States ratification and of the legislation which would be necessary for its implementation in the United States are now under study in the Patent Office. Interested persons and organizations have been requested to submit their views on these questions to the Patent Office prior to September 1, 1974.

Reproduced below is an outline of the changes in the Trademark Act of 1946 which might be required, or desirable, if the TRT is ratified and implemented. This outline is intended as a guideline to possible legislation designed to implement the requirements of the Treaty and to provide equivalent benefits to national applicants.

In regard to a few of the provisions, alternatives have been indicated. Where this is done, the order of their presentation herein does not necessarily indicate any order of preference.

This material, as well as that previously published, is made available in order to assist interested persons in their own studies of the question of ratification by the United States and implementing legislation rather than constituting a position of the Patent Office on these questions.

C. MARSHALL DANN,
Commissioner of Patents.

OUTLINE

Introduction

This paper is an outline of possible changes in the Trademark Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 427; 15 U.S.C. 1051 et seq.), as amended, which may be required or desirable if the Trademark Registration Treaty, signed by the United States and thirteen other countries as of December 31, 1973, is ratified and implemented.

The subject is dealt with in two parts. Part I outlines changes in the domestic trademark statute which would be applicable in the case of national applications to register marks in the United States Patent Office. Part II concerns additional provisions which would be necessary in order to assimilate the proposed Treaty to this national law.

For convenience, reference is made, following some of the sections, to the article of the Treaty which requires or gives rise to the change under consideration.

PART I—CHANGES IN THE TRADEMARK ACT OF 1946, AS AMENDED

A. Requiremeents for Registration on the Principal Register

1. As an alternative to actual use, a trademark, service mark, certification or collective mark, can be registered by a person based on a declared intention to use the mark in commerce. [Article 19(3), (4)]. Special use requirements are applicable to registrations secured on this basis. (See B below).
2. As an alternative to signing by the applicant, an application may be signed by a duly appointed representative. (Article 26). Present qualifications for representation before the Patent Office (attorney admitted to practice in a State or District of Columbia) continue to apply, however.
3. Verified statement of the claim to ownership is no longer required (Article 5).

B. Special Requirements for Intent Applicants/Registrants

1. (a) Applicant/registrant must commence use of the mark in commerce within three years of filing date and must declare such commencement of use during the fourth year, including the same details, etc., use dates, label specimens, etc.) as those declared by a use applicant at time of filing. [Article 19(3)].
   (b) Time period for filing the declaration may be shortened (three months from date of notice) on petition of interested person if the mark is involved in any proceeding under the Act on or after date of expiration of the three year use moratorium.
   Alternative: Shorter period for filing the declaration (e.g., 3½ years) and delete (b) above.
2. Consequence of failure to file an acceptable declaration within the prescribed time limit is cancellation of the registration or, if still pending, refusal of the application. Consequence of compliance as to part only of the goods and/or services is limitation of the registration or application to those goods and/or services. [Article 19(3)].
3. Time period for commencement of use may be extended beyond three years only upon showing of special circumstances which justify non-use.
4. Where later intent application(s) for same mark is (are) filed by the same or a related person prior to four (Al- ternative: five) years from the filing date of the earliest one, the period for commencement of use (three years) is counted from the filing date of earliest application. This provision means that a person cannot abuse the intent to use provisions by filing successive intent applications at or close to the expiration of successive three year periods, securing a new three year moratorium on use requirements with each new case. [Article 19(3)].

C. Related Company Provision

A minor change provides that intended use as well as use may inure to benefit of a related company. Thus, for example, an intent application by a parent company would be valid if the evidence supporting the intent concerned adoption of the mark by and related activities of a controlled subsidiary.

D. Registration on the Principal Register

1. If a registration based on an intent application is issued before the declaration of use is filed, the certificate of registration indicates this fact in lieu of the dates of use.
2. Date of registration is the same date as the filing date, which is defined as the date on which all basic elements of an application are received by the Patent Office. (See Trademark Rule 2.21.) Certificate also indicates the date of issue, defined as the date of the OFFICIAL GAZETTE in which notice of the issuance of the registration is published. [Article 11(2)].
3. A certificate of registration is prima facie evidence of the validity of the registration, the right of the registrant to exclude any other person from securing or maintaining a confusingly similar registration, and the exclusive right to use only for those goods or services in respect of which the mark is declared in the certificate of registration, or in a subsequently filed declaration of use, to be in use in commerce.

E. Duration of Registration, Sixth Year Affidavit and Renewal

1. Term of registration and of renewal is changed from twenty years to ten years, counted from the date of registration. [Article 17].
2. Sixth year affidavit of use remains applicable to all registrations, with its due date counted from date of issue of the registration (Change only in terminology).

   Alternative: Same, except that due date is counted from date of registration.
3. Sixth year affidavit must show use in commerce.
4. A renewal application need not be verified. (Article 17).
5. A late renewal application may be filed within six months (rather than three) after the date of expiration of the term. (Article 17).

F. Assignment

An application or registration based on intent is not assignable prior to filing the declaration of use. Exception: successor to the entire business of the original applicant.

Alternative: Assignments of registered or applied for marks without good will are valid.

G. Examination Procedure and Oppositions

1. Time for response to office actions is reduced from six months to three months. Purpose is to expedite completion of ex parte examination in maximum number of cases prior to cut-off. (See 3 below).
2. No mark may be refused ex parte for a reason not communicated to applicant prior to fifteen months from the filing date. This limitation is not applicable to a refusal determined by a decision of the TTAB or a court. [Article 12(2)].
3. Cut-off at twelve months from filing date for publication of the mark for opposition, whether or not the ex parte examination, including any appeal therefrom, has been completed. If an opposition is filed against a still pending case, full opposition proceedings are deferred until completion of the ex parte examination. If the opposed mark is eventually determined to be registrable, then full opposition proceedings are commenced, unless the opposer withdraws. [Article 12(2)].

   Alternative: Publish all marks promptly after filing and receive oppositions concurrently with the ex parte examination, deferring full opposition proceedings (as above), however, until completion of the ex parte examination.
4. Oppositions need not be verified and may be filed by a duly authorized attorney.
5. Time to oppose may not be extended to a date later than fifteen months, counted from the filing date. [Article 12(2)].

H. Cancellation of Registrations

1. A petition to cancel need not be verified and may be filed by a duly authorized attorney.
2. The time period for cancellation based on unrestricted grounds (i.e., 5 years) is counted from the date of issue of the registration (Change only in terminology).

I. Incontestability

The time period for incontestability is counted from the date of issue of the registration (Change only in terminology).

J. Appeals

Minor change provides for an appeal from a refusal to accept a declaration of use.

K. Constructive Notice

Constructive notice is applicable from date of issue of registration (Change only in terminology).

Alternative: Constructive notice applicable as of the date of first publication.

L. The Supplemental Register

1. Special Requirement of one year's use prior to filing date is deleted, making Supplemental Register registrations subject to the same use requirements, i.e., use or intention to use, as registrations on the Principal Register. [Article 19(3)].
2. Petition to cancel a Supplemental Register registration need not be verified and can be filed by a duly authorized attorney.
3. Non-use is a ground for cancellation only after expiration of three years from the filing date. [Article 19(3)].

M. Infringement Remedies, Evidence and Priority

1. Owner of a registration based on an intent application may not start any action for infringement until the declaration of use has been filed and accepted. Any remedies for infringement of registered marks based on intent are applicable only to period after commencement of continuing use. [Article 19(3)].
2. A certificate of registration is prima facie evidence of exclusive right to use only for those goods or services in respect of which the mark is declared in the certificate of registration, or in a subsequently filed declaration of use, to be in use in commerce. (Consistent wtih M 1 above).
3. In an action based on an incontestable registration, defense based on innocent adoption and continuous use (i.e., section 33(b)(5)) is subject to the condition that the defendant must be innocent of knowledge not only of prior use of the registrant, but, where applicable, of registration based upon a previously filed declaration of intention to use.
4. For the purpose of determining priority of rights in any proceeding under the Act, an application or registration based on intent to use is accorded the same effect as if the applicant or registrant had commenced use of the mark in commerce on the filing date. Except where priority is accorded in a Patent Office proceeding, or in an appeal therefrom, prior to three years from the filing date, a condition to the according of priority on this basis is filing and acceptance of the declaration of use. [Article 19(3)].

N. International Convention Provisions

1. The waiver of use requirements for an application based on registration of the mark in a country with which we have a treaty relationship is deleted. Since all applicants have the alternative of securing a registration based on an intention to use the mark in commerce, the waiver of use requirements is no longer necessary and such applications are subject to all requirements of the Act. Similarly, the first sentence of section 44(c) is deleted, being unnecessary in view of the general limitation on actions for infringement based on unused marks. (See M 1).

2. A minor change in section 44(d)(4) provides that a registration based on intent is not subject to the limitation of this subparagraph if the declaration of use has been accepted prior to issuance of the registration.

O. Definitions

1. The words "or intended to be used" are inserted in several of the definitions to take into account the new basis for registration.
2. Filing date, date of issue and date of registration are defined. (See D 2). Careful definition of "filing date" is important since it is the basis for determining the priority of intent applications. (See M 4).
3. The definition of abandonment is modified to the extent that non-use for two consecutive years is prima facie abandonment only if the two year period terminates on a date later than the date of expiration of three year use moratorium. Also, failure to commence use within the prescribed period, coupled with absence of any intention to commence use, constitutes abandonment. [Article 19(3)].

PART II—IMPLEMENTATION OF TRADEMARK REGISTRATION TREATY

A. Definitions

For purposes of the Act, an international application, international registration or later designation under the Trademark Registration Treaty (TRT) is defined to include only one which designates the United States; contains a declaration of intention to use the mark in commerce with or in the United States (or is accompanied by a declaration of actual use of the mark in such commerce); and is published and communicated to the Patent Office as required by the TRT. [Articles 10, 11, 19(4)].

B. Effect in the United States of Proceedings Under the Treaty

1. International applications, international registrations and later designations as defined above (See A), and the recordings related thereto, are accorded all of the effects, and their applicants or owners are entitled to all of the benefits, in the United States provided by the TRT, subject to all of the requirements of the TRT and, except as listed below, of the Trademark Act.
2. Exceptions to full application of the Trademark Act are:
   (a) The fee referred to in section 1 is waived. (Note: A fee equivalent to the U.S. application fee is paid to the International Bureau and the amounts of the fees collected on behalf of the United States are paid to the U.S. in lump sums.) [Article 19(1)].
   (b) The requirement to designate an agent for service in the application [i.e., present section 1(d)] is waived, provided that such person must be designated on or prior to date on which the owner replies to any communication by the examiner or otherwise institutes or defends any proceeding under the Act. Until such person has been designated, notices or process may be served upon the Commissioner. Consequence of failure to designate such person on or prior to the first to occur of the above events is cancellation of any effect of the international registration in the United States. [Article 19(7)].
   (c) A certificate of registration issued by the Patent Office based on an international registration shall also indicate the number and date of the international registration to which it relates.
   (d) The filing date under the Act of an international registration is the international registration date. The date of issue is the date on which registration effect in the United States of an international registration comes into existence pursuant to a notice to this effect published in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE, as in the case of publication of issuance of a national registration. [Article 11(1)(2)].
   (e) The recording of a change in ownership, or in the name of the owner, of an international registration shall not be accorded any effect as the recording of an assignment unless, within three months from the date of publication of such recording under the TRT, instruments of assignment conforming to the requirements of the Trademark Act are recorded in the Patent Office. [Article 14(4)].
   (f) Renewal of the effect of an international registration in the United States by the International Bureau is not subject to the requirements of section 9, provided that the registrant shall file in the Patent Office, prior to the expiration of six months counted from the starting date of the term of renewal, a declaration as to use of the mark in commerce. Consequences of failure to file an acceptable use declaration are the same as in the case of failure to file or filing of an unacceptable fourth year declaration of use (See Part I, B 2).
   Note: The renewal fee is collected and distributed in the same way as the filing fee. (See (a) above.) [Article 17, 19(1), 19(3)].

C. Authority of the Commissioner

The Commissioner is authorized to accord and deny effects, communicate notifications, make attestations, decide petitions, determine the amount of and receive payments of fees, and perform all other acts as provided by the TRT, subject to the requirements thereof.

D. Notifications

The Commissioner is required to effect all required notifications promptly. Where the time limitation of the TRT is stated in terms of the date of receipt, the notification shall be transmitted to the International Bureau no later than 14 days from the due date via Registered Air Mail.

* * * * *

Final Note: The above outline does not include final provisions concerning the effective date of certain changes. Generally, changes that might have an effect on existing rights would be effective only as to applications filed on or after the effective date of the amended Act.
